WHAT IS FAIR HOUSING?

Fair Housing is the right of individuals to obtain the housing of their choice (ie: rent an apartment, buy a home, obtain a mortgage, purchase homeowners insurance, etc.), free from discrimination based on the following protected classes: race, color, religion, gender, national origin, mental or physical disability, familial status, marital status, age, sexual preference, and legal and verifiable source of income. These rights are assured by Federal, State and local fair housing laws.

What is Housing Discrimination?

Housing discrimination occurs when someone is treated differently during a housing transaction because they are a member of a protected class. It can occur in the advertisement, purchase, rental, financing, negotiation or insuring of housing. Signs of possible discrimination include refusing to sell, rent or show available housing, offering differing terms to different people and stating or advertising a preference for a certain type of person or persons.

Placing an advertisement?

All advertising for the sale, rental, or financing of residential real estate is subject to federal, state and local fair housing laws. A good rule of thumb to follow when advertising housing is to describe the physical attributes of the property and amenities, NOT any person or persons. This can create confusion when you are participating in a lead abatement program, such as Get the Lead Out! in the City of Grand Rapids, which has the following program requirements, among others:

- For three years afterwards, the units must be rented to pre-qualified, low-income tenants and affirmatively marketed to families with young children.
- A child under the age of six years must live in the unit to be fixed.

These requirements can be met without violating fair housing law if you follow the guidance in this brochure and contact the Fair Housing Center of West Michigan at 616-451-2980 or email contact-us@fhcwm.org with questions BEFORE placing an ad.

LEAD-SAFE HOUSING DO'S & DON'TS:

- DO use the term “lead-safe” when lead-based paint hazards have been controlled.
- DON'T exclude families with children from units where lead based paint hazards have not been controlled.
- DO provide families with young children information about the hazards of lead poisoning.
- DON'T advertise or have limitations, preferences, or requirements on the ages or number of children in the family (i.e. “must have 1 child under the age of 6”).
- DO ensure that marketing materials are widely available to families with children.
- DON'T describe any potential applicants in marketing materials (i.e. “perfect for a married couple with children”)
- DO describe the property and its amenities in verbal or written statements or ads.
- DON'T limit families with children to specific buildings, floors or units.
- DO call the Fair Housing Center with any questions.
